OF LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS, ETC.

Gathered About Town By Our Reporter and Scissored From Our

Esteemed Contemporaries Throughout This And Adjoining Territories

I. O. O. F. meet to night.

The air is pure and refreshing to day, after the blessed rain.

The lightning struck in several places during last night's storm.

The thermometer registered one hundred degrees at noon to-day.

Looks very much as though we would have another shower this evening.

Mr. C. M. Bruce was up from his ranch at the Barbacomari to-day.

Don't forget the negro minstrel show at Schlegel's Hall to-night.

Suit for divorce was to day filed with the clerk of the county court by Frank Smith vs. Mary Smith.

The French residents of this city will celebrate the fall of the Bastille by a grand banquet at the Mason Dorce, this evening.

There are to be four more teachers elected by the school board at their meeting this evening.

Miss Minna Hart, a graduate of Vassar College, has been elected a-sistant principal of our public school. A good appointment.

Edward Hassett, whom we spoke of as being stabbed by a negro in Phoenix, on Sunday has since died from the effect of his wound.

One of the heaviest rain storms that we have had for two years, visited this section last night, and for a while our streets resembled miniature rivers.

Mr. DeWitt Mesick, who witnessed the accident to Mr. Carr this afternoon, when he saw the blood spouting in all directions faintly away.

Suit was filed with the clerk of the court to-day by Gustav Anderson vs. George Rutledge and James Fruit, to foreclose lien on Alpe Mining claim for $669.

E. A. Shattuck and wife, Sulphur Spring Valley; C. R. Maloney, Frank Parker, Bisbee; A. A. Guensey, H. B. Wilkins, Guaymas; are registered at the Occidental hotel.

The Knights of Pythias, during their convention last evening had to adjourn, their lodge room leaking so badly. We would suggest to the owners that they immediately make the necessary repairs.

If you want to see two happy men, just cast your eyes upon Mr. Emil Schmidt and Billy Sprague. The cause of all this happiness was that Mrs. Schmidt presented her husband last night with a bouncing baby boy, making a dad of Emil and a granddad of Billy Sprague.

Al Jones received a handsome three seated rockaway, for the use of patrons of the Fashion stables. It was purchased through the firm of Bothin, Tweed & Co., who are the agents of the manufacturers at South Bend Indiana. It cost $800 without the freight, and is a beauty.

The firm of Bothin, Tweed & Company have received nine large wagon loads of buggies and wagons since last Saturday. They will have them all put together in a few days and then the public can choose from one of the largest assortments of buggies and wagons that have ever been brought to this territory.

We are sorry to learn that the school board have rejected the application of Mrs. Gaston at their last meeting, as she is a lady of large experience in school matters, having taught in Nevada for a number of years, and in this city for the past four years, and is spoken of very highly by both parents and scholars.

On Saturday evening last the residence of Mr. Robert Davis, night foreman of the Grand Central mill, was totally destroyed by fire. The fire was caused by the explosion of a lamp. Mrs. Davis barely escaped with her life and saved nothing but her night clothes, so quick was the house enveloped in flames.

The election of Mrs. Sarah Herring, by the school board last night, as principal for the ensuing school year, was a well deserved compliment to a most estimable young lady. Miss Herring took hold of the school when it was a regular pandemonium, and in two months time, she had an orderly school, and children becoming imbued with her spirit, began to learn something. The board of trustees are to be congratulated upon their appointment of Miss Herring.

As many residents of Tombstone and vicinity of Virginia City, knew Mr. Senf, we take the following from the Virginia City Chronicle: George Senf, or "Grumpy," formerly manager of the Virginia City telegraph office, and later of the Sacramento office, has been promoted to the position of Cashier in the San Francisco office of the Western Union Telegraph company. The position is a very responsible one, commanding a fine salary, and has been bestowed on a competent and worthy gentleman in recognition of thirty years faithful service. Twenty-eight years ago Mr. Senf and Johnny Skae opened the first telegraph office in Aurora, and in 1850 Mr. Senf opened the first telegraph office in Virginia City.

Looking for Ranges.

Messrs. James L. Morrow and R. J. Schissler returned yesterday from a six weeks tour of the territory in quest of stock ranges. They traveled extensively through Pinal, Pinal, Maricopa, Gila, Mohave and Yavapai counties, and made a close examination of the grazing facilities in all the sections visited. The general result of their observations may be summed up as follows: Whenever there is an available water supply, with few exceptions, the country is overstocked. There, of course, large sections of fine grazing lands where natural water in sufficient quantities does not exist, but where with money an abundant supply could doubtless be obtained by sinking. In certain portions of the country visited by them they say the cattlemen are organized to prevent the introduction of further herds of stock, although there is plenty room for others. This is notably the case in Gila county. Along the line and north of the Atlantic & Pacific road, a Yavapai county, they found a large area of land which seems incapable of holding water. In this section a moderate supply of water can be found at a moderate depth; but on going deeper to increase the supply the water already and sinks into the lava formation and disappears. Consequently they were not favorably impressed with that region as a cattle country. They speak of the Rhine valley as the most attractive place visited, and which they think contains the best natural resources. They will continue their observations somewhat in this vicinity, and before leaving for Pittsburgh, where they reside, will probably make some investments. -- Star.

If the gentlemen above mentioned had visited Cochise county, they would have had no need to look any place else, for they could have found ranges to their entire desire and plenty of water. Come this way gentlemen.

A Useful Dog.

"Expect they had some pups up at the Chicago dog show," remarked a passenger on the O. R. but I have a dog at home I wouldn't trade for the best of 'em." "What breed is he?" "Don't know exactly, but call him a bulldog." "Could you mean?" "No, I mean just what I say--only money wouldn't buy that dog. He's a cur and we couldn't keep him without him. You see, several years ago I trained him to bark at the railway trains as they passed our house. That's his sole business--barking at trains. He does just what he is trained to do at all times. Well, he enjoys the railroad men so that every time a train or oreman on the road has sworn to kill him. Oh, he is a valuable dog." "I can't see where the value comes in." "You can't? Well, you if you was in my place and you had all the coal you could burn and some to sell, thrown right off at your back door free of cost."

Judge Meyer on his Muscle.

The Tucson Fairings has the following: Joseph McCafferty was arrested and brought before Judge Meyer yesterday morning for contempt of court in having used violent language to the judge in connection with the Richmond case. After sentencing the prisoner to a fine of $50 or ten days imprisonment, Mr. Meyer stepped out in front of his desk and said that he had laid aside his official robes and was prepared to do Mr. McCafferty up in just about a minute, if he would only open his mouth. Mr. McCafferty didn't seem over anxious to say anything and was led away to the hotel Butner in default of bail.

County Records.

The following instruments have been filed in the office of the County Record er.

DEEDS NINES.

Charles H. Frye to M. L. Calhoun, 1/2 interest in the Government mine, Tombstone district; $100.

J. A. Sherwood and wife, to the Great American Mining company, certain mines in Cochise county.

LOCATION NOTICE.

Government mine, No. 2, Tombstone district; W. K. Mesick, M. L. Calhoun, G. W. Bunderfer.

This afternoon while Buford's teamsters were unloading freight in front of the store of Walcott and Mesick on Fifth street, a barrel of candy which Mr. Carr was helping to unload from the top of the wagon, fell striking him upon the back of his head cutting a gash across it clear to the bone, the blood spouting out in streams. A physician was summoned and the wounded man was dressed, but not until after Mr. Carr was considerably weakened from the loss of blood. It is not known yet but what the hand will have to be amputated above the wrist, as the tendons and muscles are badly injured.

The tri-colored flag was thrown to the breeze to-day by many of our French citizens in honor of the anniversary of the fall of the Bastille.

LOCAL NEWS.

GATHERED TO-DAY BY OUR REPORTER.

The Remains of the Late F. H. Hatch Arrive at His Old Home.

The Largest Funeral Ever Held in Half Moon Bay. Floral Tributes, Etc.

In Memoriam.

We take the following from the Redwood City Times-Gazette:

J. H. Hatch arrived at Halfmoon Bay from Tombstone, Arizona, Thursday evening June 26, with the remains of his brother, Frank W., who died at the last named place, Saturday afternoon, June 20. The funeral, which was one of the largest ever seen here, took place at 2 o'clock p. m. on Sunday from the Methodist Episcopal church, conducted by the pastor. The funeral sermon was preached by Rev. L. Fellers.

Frank W. Hatch, the second son of James Hatch, of Halfmoon Bay, was born at Woodstock, Canada, and was 28 years of age. About two months ago he was taken sick with typhoid fever, from which he seemed to recover, but suffered a relapse and sank rapidly until a week ago last Saturday, when he died. His brother Harry reached him about three hours after his death. He was a young man of fine character and steady habits, and universally respected, and his early death is a sad blow to his father and other relatives here.

Among the floral pieces presented at the funeral of F. W. Hatch at Halfmoon Bay on last Sunday, was a handsome broken column two feet high, made of cut glass flowers. On the base was the initials of the deceased, F. W. H.; on the sides the emblems of the Masonic and Odd Fellows, of which the deceased was a member, worked in small red flowers of the glass intarsia. The column was made by J. R. Turner of this place and was presented by D. W. F. and J. R. Turner.

A Protest.

We have been requested to publish the following statement of facts from the settlers of the Barbacomari. We, the undersigned owners of ranches on the Barbacomari, respectfully request you to publish the enclosed letter, that the people of this territory may learn from open facts the kind of a gentleman they have presiding over the interests of this territory as the United States district attorney, whose well known pomposity is only equalled by his Ammonian propensities. First, the ranch owners on the Barbacomari have yet to learn that there ever was a suit of judgment ever brought before a court to eject them. Second, that no one knows better than does United States District Attorney Zabrickie that ex-surveyor General Watson made his favorable report on this grant under misrepresentation and has since so remarked. Third, District Attorney Zabrickie knows that Grantee, Perrin, never had possession of this grant and on his own sworn evidence on the witness stand stated that he had resided there for two years and then only at the cattle company's house, and furthermore, we are prepared to prove by indisputable evidence that Mr. Perrin tried to persuade a gentleman of Tucson to go into his fictitious grant three years ago and take possession, offering him a liberal amount if he would do so. Fourth, as for the petitioners being squatters, there is not one of them but has resided on their ranches from two to ten years before any claim to this grant was ever made by said Perrin. Fifth, District Attorney Zabrickie's last remark in his letter of falsehood to the attorney general at Washington could not have ended with any more appropriate word than waste.

District Attorney Zabrickie forgets to mention to his superior at Washington the one truth that his letter might contain, viz., that he himself was the paid attorney for the plaintiff in this case.

TERRIBLE DEATH

OF MRS. GARLIC OF THE TOWN OF CHARLESTON.

The Accident is Caused by Lighting a Fire With Kerosene.

The Unfortunate Lady Lives Five Hours, and Endures Terrible Pain.

3-d Death.

We made mention last evening of the burning of a woman at Charleston, and since then have learned the following particulars of the sad accident. It seems that the lady, who is the wife of M. Gerlock, proprietor of the Eagle hotel, was in a hurry to start a fire, and took a coal oil can containing oil and poured it over the wood, but as the fire had not gone out entirely from the noon day fire it ignited the oil which exploded the can at once and enveloped her in the flames. She immediately became crazed with fear and ran into the back yard, and thence through the house of a neighbor into the street, which she started down but could not be stopped until J. B. Ayers ran into her way and covered her with a blanket, putting out the fire, but not before he had burned his hands and face badly in his heroic endeavors to save the unfortunate lady's life. She was then conveyed to her home, and Dr. Dunn was immediately telegraphed for, but as he was out of town when the dispatch arrived, he did not reach there until about three hours after the accident occurred. In the mean time all could possibly be done to alleviate the sufferings of the unfortunate woman was done, but it was of no avail. She lingered until about five hours after the accident, and then her soul took its flight to Him that gave it. She was terribly burned from her breast down. The flesh being literally cooked. Mrs. Gerlock was but 23 years of age and had been married but recently. Her body will be embalmed and sent to her relatives in the east. The Tombstone in common with the whole community tenders the deepest sympathy to the bereaved husband in this his darkest hour.
